1. Claims 7-25 stand withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed on May 12, 2006. Applicant's traversal has been considered but is not convincing. Regardless of the burden imposed by searching all of the pending claims, the fact remains that the 3 inventions are independent and distinct, as set forth in Paper No. 041106. Additionally, a search for the elected invention does not involve searching subclasses that would be searched for the non-elected inventions. Further, vegetables, such as potatoes, can be sliced so as to form a planar surface, despite applicant's belief otherwise. Cooking of the product is not an issue since a cooked product is not claimed.

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. There is no antecedent basis in claim 1 for "the oil content" (claim 6). Correction is required without new matter.

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mottur et al (col. 1, lines 9-12) or Ellis et al (col. 4, line 20) in view of Lodge et al (Fig. 1). Mottur et al discloses square shaped, planar, seasoned potato chips or corn chips. Ellis et al discloses flat, seasoned corn chips. It would have been obvious to prepare the chips in either primary reference to be in the shape of a slice of bread and include perforations (claim 5) since it is well known to prepare oval shaped, perforated potato chips, as evidenced by Lodge et al, and since bread, e.g. rye bread, can have an oval shape. Finding the optimum area of the chips as well as the optimum thickness and optimum oil content thereof (claims 1, 4 and 6) would require nothing more than routine experimentation by one reasonably skilled in this art.
